November 20th, 2025

Hi Everyone!

It's raining at the Ranch! We needed some more rain and what we are getting is almost perfect, nothing to cause any flooding just enough to get the moisture we needed. No events this weekend, the trails will be less dusty if you decide to come down and get some riding in. Employees are getting a lot of general maintenance done that is hard to do when the Ranch is busy. Work on the adult pool is continuing with no delays. Most of the trees have dropped their leaves now, if you have never ridden the Ranch in the fall without the leaves and underbrush you should give it a try. Things look completely different when you can see into the woods. It's a good time of year to just ride around and look around.

Thanks

Lee Krout
